

Vehicle registrations are renewed annually, and renewal notices are mailed out several weeks prior to your expiration date to help you remember. Renewing your registration is easy no matter how you go about it, and you only need a few things.

How to Renew Your Registration

You have several options when it comes to how you renew your registration. The most convenient method is renewing online, via our RenewalExpress tool.

Or, click here to find an inspection station near you that can not only complete your inspections, but also renew your registration as part of our On The Spot program.

Otherwise, feel free to visit your local DMV office or return the renewal notice with applicable inspection certificates and registration fee payment by mail.

What You Will Need

Though the DMV will send you a renewal reminder, this notice is not required to renew your registration. Applicable safety and/or emissions inspection certificates and payment of the vehicle's registration fees are all that is required.
